Peace makers should be hailed: NIFJ

Newa International Forum Japan (NIFJ) joins Newa community in Nepal and abroad to hail the peacemakers involved in signing the historical peace accord to let peace return to Nepal, the native land of the preacher of peace to the World, Gautama Buddha.

Signing of the peace accord proves what the Buddha had proclaimed 2500 years ago, “united those will win over the evil, united those will enjoy and let others enjoy happiness through reconciliation”. The historic peace accord also proves that there is nothing impossible to resolve a dispute. If negotiated with a determined will, all sorts of disputes can be resolved, also a message of Lord Buddha.

NIFJ appeals all concerned in bringing peace to Nepal to adhere what they have promised – equal treatment to all including those, who they had considered enemy for the part of aggression before the peace accord was signed. “Hatred begets hatred” says the apostle of peace. Hence, all the Nepali people should come forward, in equal footings, without any hatred to rebuild the society that can be trusted and where all can live in self dignity fulfilling the respective duties.

Nepal is a nation made up of diverse nationalities. Hence, NIFJ believes that new Nepal should be a kind one to all nationalities and one, which will not repeat the past mistakes of favoring a particular nationality, party or ‘a particular language’ speakers.
